THE DAILY AVALANCHE

OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE CITY.

FOR GOVERNOR,

EMERSON ETHERIDGE

OF WEAKLEY COUNTY.

FOR SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION,

CHARLES S. CAMERON,

OF SHELBY COUNTY.

FOR CONGRESS,

Hon. J. W. LEFTWICH.

FOR STATE SENATOR,

Hon. JOHN W. SMITH, of Shelby.

FOR REPRESENTATIVES,

Honorable DAN. ABLE,

Honorable W. W. COLEMAN.

FOR FLOATER.

GENERAL PHILLIP B. GLENN,

OF FAYETTE COUNTY.

Public Speaking in the Seventh Congressional District.

The undersigned, candidates for Congress, will address the people of the Seventh Congressional District at the following times and places, viz.:

Stevenson's Mill, Weakley county, Wednesday, July 24.

Como, Henry County, Thursday, July 25.

ISAAC R. HAWKINS,
WM. P. CALDWELL.

HON. J. W. SMITH will address his fellow citizens at the following times and places, viz:

Somerville, Saturday, July 27.

At which appointments W. J. Smith and F. S. Richards are respectfully invited to be present, and divide time. General P. B. Glenn will attend the most of the above appointments, and address the people upon the important issues of the hour.

The Northwestern railroad to Hickman will be completed in a few days.

Louis Devoto, who attempted to murder his wife and child at Mound City, on the 23d, hung himself on the 24th.

There is a learned Radical chap out in Iowa who has blundered into the chair editorial, and writes of the Goddess Cupid, and says Colfax spoke viva voce.

A little girl, daughter of Joseph Mayl, died in Cincinnati Tuesday, from hydrophobia, the effect of a bite of a mad dog, received some months ago.

Doctor Hancock, at Bowling Green, Kentucky, Wednesday night, shot one Montgomery, with whom he had a long standing difficulty. Montgomery will probably die.

The levee convention at New Orleans appointed a committee to call on General Sheridan, and see what can be done to repair the levees. The convention then adjourned sine die.

Two Italian counterfeiters were arrested in Cincinnati, Tuesday, while in the act of moulding counterfeit five cent nickels. They had superb dies and machinery, and several bushels of spurious coins.

A German woman, at Chippewa Falls, recently gave birth to a son with a double body, two heads and four legs and arms. It lived only a short time. The body has been forwarded for exhibition.

A woman has recently been arrested in Cleveland for having married three husbands, and living at the time of the arrest with two of them. The Plaindealer heads the crime "Polyandry."

Cholera is raging badly at Forts Harker and Hays, Kansas. Fifty cases were reported at Fort Harker on Saturday, and seventeen deaths. There were seven cases in one family at Salina, and three deaths.

The Michigan Constitutional Convention, Wednesday morning, in Committee of the Whole, passed a resolution in favor of negro suffrage. There was no opposition.

Over one thousand cords piled wood, belonging to the Chicago, Alton and St. Louis railroad, was destroyed by fire at Lockport, Illinois, on Friday morning. Loss about six thousand dollars.

The Indians on the Black Hills continue to steal stock, but are held in check by the Pawnee scouts from doing serious mischief. The Pawnees are very active, and have killed a number of Sioux, in different encounters.

A telegram from Hadersly, in North Schleswig, has announced that one thousand families in that district have had notice from the Prussian authorities to quit their homes within eight days, for refusing allegiance to the new order of things.

Orange Day, July 12th, passed off quietly in Ireland. There was a demonstration at Belfast, at which 30,000 Orangemen marched in procession through the city. The military and constabulary patroled the town. There was no disturbance.

The National Intelligencer announces, apparently on authority, a confirmation of the recent dispatch sent hence that the President will fully carry out the Reconstruction Laws and the supplemental act. It entirely disclaims for him the construction placed upon a portion of his late message, that he did not intend to execute the latter act.

Mr. Gaving, a farmer residing at Ascotneyville, Vermont, and his wife were murdered Monday night by a Frenchman, a former employe of Mr. Gaving, who beat their brains out with an ax. The murder was committed for money, but how much obtained was not known.

The Louisville Courier says: "A chap sent us about three yards of warm weather poetry, dedicated to Aurelia. In the first verse he says: 'Oh, she was fair, but sorrow came, and left its traces there.' As he dont tell what became of the rest of the harness, we can't publish the effusion."

A prize fight took place on Tuesday, about a mile from East St. Louis, between William Nicholson and Jemmy Kearns. They fought eight rounds with great spirit, and Nicholson was knocked out of time by a sockdolager from Kearns. Both bruisers were severely punished. The fight was for a purse of one hundred dollars.

Messrs. Maynard and Etheridge had a personal renconter at Greenville a few days since. Maynard addressed Etheridge, who replied, "I don't speak to d—d scoundrels." Maynard answered, "I do." Etheridge then struck him, when he seized an ink stand to throw, when they were separated. This is the Radical side of the story, and has been emphatically denied.

An election for President and Directors of the Northwestern railroad, for the ensuing year, was held at Huntingdon, Tennessee, on Monday, the 22d instant, with the following result: President—Michael Burns, Esq., re-elected. Directors—M. Burns, W. H. Cooper, R. C. McNair, E. D. Hicks, A. H. Hicks, M. D. Clark, W. S. Whiteman, D. J. C. Carter, Davidson county; M. S. Allen, Carroll; J. C. Vincent, John A. Gardner, Weakley; T. C. Gleason, Obion; A. D. Ringman, A. K. Dodds, Hickman county.

Denver papers represent the surveys made by Captain Berthoud between Golden City and Cache La Poudre show that a very satisfactory road can be built to connect the mountains with Denver and the Union Pacific, at not much greater expense than the road on the Platte. Every effort will be made to commence the work of grading as soon as possible.

A couple of prominent citizens of Lebanon, Tennessee, named Golladay and Mosley, the former a Conservative and the latter a Radical, got into a political discussion on Monday. When getting excited they attacked each other with scythe handles. Mosley had his arm broken, and Golladay received a shocking gash on the head. None of the wounds are fatal.

A shocking tragedy, arising from the want of care in the use of a coal oil lamp, occurred in Cincinnati Monday night. The victim was a Mrs. Hinkle. She attempted to fill the lamp with oil while the wick was still burning. The oil suddenly ignited, and in less than half a minute her body was burned to a crisp. She lingered three hours in great agony, and died, leaving two small children. Her fate should be a terrible warning.

James S. Thomas, the Radical Mayor of St. Louis, was arrested and fined on Wednesday for assaulting a woman, who is described as a quadroon. He struck her with his cane, and, as he said himself, struck her hard. He kicked her twice in the region of the breasts, and finally crushed her down by swinging an iron gate against her. The jury only assessed a fine of $3 and costs, but a suit has been entered against him for $10,000 damages.

Intelligence is continually arriving, from various sources, of new facts in reference to the value of our recently acquired territory of Walrussia. The latest is contained in a letter to Mr. Seward from Mr. Berry, of Oregon, who relates that a party of prospectors entering Russian America from British Columbia, in 1862, found in the Stickeen river, three hundred miles from its mouth, gold and silver deposits of great wealth. He says "they worked with hand rockers for eight days, and gained thirteen dollars and a half per day in native silver, and eleven hundred dollars in the aggregate. They also found rubies and agates, and on Bristol river copper and coal indications." Mr. Berry's letter to Secretary Seward is dated April 9, 1867.

HARD SWEARING REQUIRED.

Candidates' Oath and Radical Antecedents.

Why Can't They be Indicted for Perjury?

Every candidate for office has to take the following stringent oath:

"I DO MOST SOLEMNLY SWEAR that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the Government of the United States, for the purpose, or with the intention of aiding the late rebellion, nor have I, with any such intention at any time, given aid, comfort, counsel or encouragement to said rebellion, or to any act of hostility to the Government of the United States. I further swear that I have never sought or accepted any office, either civil or military, under the authority, or pretended authority, of the so called Confederate States of America, or of any insurrectionary State, hostile or opposed to the authority of the United States Government with the intent and desire to aid said rebellion; and that I have never given a voluntary support to any such government or authority, so help me God."

Can the Radical candidates take this oath and be guiltless of perjury? So far as we know, every man on the Radical ticket of this district will perjure himself, flatly, squarely perjure himself, if he takes the candidates' oath. One of the leading lawyers of Memphis declares that "wherever the oaths of the Radical candidates are on file he can convict them of perjury, and if the courts do their duty, send them to the State prison." It may be that many Radical voters do not know this fact. Perhaps they don't know what can be proven of their standard bearers.

Brownlow.—It can be proven that Brownlow sympathized with and gave encouragement to the rebellion. The proof is a letter now in possession of a leading lawyer of this city. It is a letter that was written by Brownlow to this leading lawyer. In it Brownlow proposed that they should put up a rebel regiment, and he proffered that if this leading lawyer would aid him, the lawyer should be Colonel and he (Brownlow) would be Lieutenant Colonel of the regiment. This letter is in existence—it can be produced—it cannot be denied by Brownlow. Can he hold that letter in his hand and without perjury swear that he never gave counsel or encouragement to the rebellion?

Hamilton.—Can T. A. Hamilton, when he remembers that he accepted an appointment from L. D. McKissick, Confederate Provost Marshal of Memphis, to seize the sugar, potatoes and tobacco that he could find and turn it over for the use of the Confederate Government, and remember that he did seize an immense amount of such stores, and did turn over some of them to the use of the Confederate Government, and remembers that he commanded the Confederate steamer "Thirty-fifth Parallel," still, without perjury, swear that he never accepted any office, either civil or military, or attempted to exercise the functions of such office under authority, or pretended authority, of the so called Confederate States. Would it not be an absurd perjury to swear that he never gave encouragement to the rebellion, or either sought or accepted office?

Richards.—Can Richards, who assisted in the transportation of Confederate military stores, and who, with Mr. Hough, at one time got from a large number of Mississippians certificates of his secession sentiments, swear, without perjury, that he never aided the rebellion, or even gave aid, comfort, counsel and encouragement to the rebellion?

Smith.—Can little Smith who wanted to kill the Federal prisoners when they were first brought here from Belmont—who had rebel flags up at his house and place of business—who talked rebellion and wanted to fight Yankees, now swear without perjury that he never gave "aid, comfort, council and encouragement" to the rebellion.

Ryder.—Can Ryder when he remembers that he was drill master in Hall, Rogers' company, and sought to get up a mutiny, so that he might get Rogers' place as Captain in what was subsequently company I in Colonel Douglass' rebel regiment, now without perjury swear that he never sought office under pretended authority of the so-called Confederate States. Can he remember that he was a sort of Lieutenant Colonel in the organization of another rebel regiment, but for some reason did'nt go out to the field with it, now without perjury swear that he never gave "aid, comfort, council or encouragement" to the rebellion.

Proof can be adduced of the allegations here referred to, as also that Nunn gave "aid, comfort, council and encouragement" to the rebellion. Let every Radical consider what fellows these are who in the face of such facts will go forward and take the caldidate's oath.

MEMPHIS HEMMED IN ON ALL SIDES.

A Philosophical Reason for High Rents.

Our philosopher has had his attention directed to the enormous rents in Memphis, and the results therefrom, and has considered the tax on business, the burden on working people, and the many vacant houses—sufficient reasons for tracing the evil to its source. He says:

EDITORS AVALANCHE: There are in Memphis hundreds of business houses and stores and hundreds of dwellings vacant, but still rents are out of all proportion to the amount of business done. What great influences prevent a fall in rents in accordance with the great law of supply and demand?

In one respect the geographical position of Memphis is unfortunate, since it favors the imposition of high rents. On the north side we have Wolf river, which rises out somewhere toward LaGrange, and runs from east to west. It has a valley that will sometime be drained and become desirable, but at present there is too much swamp on the North side of Wolf river, and thus Memphis is penned in. On the south side of Memphis Nonconnah creek rises not far from the head waters of Wolf river, and also runs from east to west, and empties into the Mississippi. On the south side of it there is a wide bottom that is a rich swamp that bounds us on that side. We are thus restricted to a narrow strip of territory between Wolf river and Nonconnah creek swamps, with a narrow frontage on the Mississippi.

Let us now see how private property hems us in. R. C. Brinkley owns near two miles on the Raleigh road, beginning at the present corporation line, and the fair grounds. John M. Lee owns two miles on the Germantown road, and between that and the Raleigh road. His property begins a short distance from Memphis, and he owns perhaps over a thousand acres. These claims hem in Memphis on the east. She might expand southwardly beyond the corporation line, but John Overton owns one hundred and eighty acres between the Mississippi river at Fort Pickering and Hernando street. This blocks her way. She might get a little relief by filling up the space inside the corporation line on the east side, but the Charleston railroad owns thirteen acres in the way, and no streets can be cut through its grounds, and consequently evil nts se t of it have to go a long way round to get to business down town.

I think these facts fully explain the primary reason why we have high rents in Memphis.

Yours, PHILOSOPHER.

SATURDAY, ... JULY. 27, 1867

SOMETIMES personal admiration will induce men to even forego their own convictions, and submit to the profound veneration they entertain for the opinions of others. The Bulletin a day or two ago contained an instance of the sort:

To show that we are not mistaken in imputing bad faith to Congress, we need only cite the course of the Hon. Reverdy Johnson, of Maryland, in regard to these reconstruction bills. It is well known that that patriotic Senator, believing, as we did, that Congress was acting in good faith toward the South, when it passed the original bills, waived his constitutional scruples, and voted for them. Discouraged, and disgusted, no doubt, with the shameless breach of faith, implied in the passage of the recent explanatory bill, he voted against it. By his former vote he recommended the South to accept reconstruction on the terms offered; by his latter vote, he withdraws that recommendation. We followed the lead of the distinguished Senator in the first instance; we shall follow him in the second.

There is no accounting for tastes, and we certainly do not feel the slightest inclination to discuss the matter, but with all due respect, we should have sought a more regular and consistent file-leader than the Senator from Maryland, whose political status has always been sui generis and erratic. Like the little black pig that kept such a running about, he has been hard to catch. In fact, he has been known to speak one day and vote another, like little RAY of the New York Times. REVERDY JOHNSON is a fine lawyer, and might be a statesman, but finds it exceedingly difficult to make up his mind as to any settled line of policy. He can make a superb political speech on either side, and illustrate it by any number of analogies and constitutional indications, but that ability and facility do not constitute him a desirable captain, and his own erratic course very easily accounts for a corresponding fortuosity in those who attempt to follow him.

It is asserted by a Washington correspondent that the President has declared that a portion, at least, of his recent message, has been misinterpreted: "That if there was one section of the Constitution more than another which he was bound to obey, it was that part requiring him to execute the laws of Congress, and that he should enforce them to the letter." We trust that this is not correctly reported, as it certainly is not correct in principle, and will not bear analysis. The mere fact of a veto being set aside by a constrained constitutional majority, does not more imperatively impose upon the President obedience than any constitutional duty he is required to perform. He may enforce laws which he has proved to be reckless and unconstitutional, but not under any such flimsy pretext. The Constitution describes the powers and duties which have been delegated to him, and to discharge which he has taken his solemn oath. He is no more "bound to obey that part requiring him to execute the laws of Congress" than to discharge any other trust confided to him, even though Congress have nothing to do with it. He may enforce the odious laws to let the country practically learn how odious they are; or he may conceive it his duty to no longer oppose that which he cannot oppose successfully. If ever there were a time, a man—a firm, determined, virtuous, patriotic statesman—should occupy the Presidential chair, it has come. Let us see what will be the end!

THE U. L. A.'s have a deuced sight of trouble to keep their secrets inviolate. Some hard-hearted sinner will break out of the fold and disclose password or grip, so that the penetralia may be entered by the uninitiated, and all the mysteries be made common property. Every few days an order has to be issued, cautioning "the faithful" to look out for snags, as a leaguer has dropped off, and "let the cat out of the bag." An "order" of this kind, now before us, announces that a "traitor in Tennessee has divulged the national password, with some other portion of the work," and gives instructions as to the mode of obviating the difficulty, so as to exclude outsiders, until the necessary measures can be adopted to change the password and amend the ritual in the broken places. Yet this same "order" asserts: "The Order does not feel in the least embarrassed by any pretended exposure." Oh, no! Why should it be? The organization, hiding in dark corners, and bound by unholy oaths, can, like the jointed snake, wriggle itself together again, although its mysteries are infracted. Again this "order" falsely asserts that "the better its objects are known the more will the organization be appreciated." Then why not divulge them at once, and disseminate them, that all may understand? The reason is obvious. It is of paramount importance that those objects should not be known, and hence the imperative necessity of secrecy. Time and again, the rascality cloaked beneath their dark-lantern policy, has been exposed, but stoutly denied, and the password altered so that their nefarious work may go on uninterruptedly.

CONSTITUTIONS in by-gone days were understood to be framed by conventions of the people, assembled through their delegates The system has entirely changed. A Legislature not elected by the people, but by a mode not known to the Constitution, can now, by Radical process, engraft any new feature it may choose, by simple enactment, on the Constitution. This was the way in which the Franchise Law was made part of the Constitution. But the Legislature did not stop here. That body passed another and more stringent law, and claimed that too, to be the Constitution. Could any thing so called be more plainly unconstitutional? Yet Radicals insist that these legislative enactments cannot be altered or amended unless by the process prescribed for changing a constitution with all the solemnities and ceremonies that were once deemed requisite to reflect the will of the people in convention assembled.

THE most mendacious paper in this State, BROWNLOW's Whig not excepted, is the Nashville Press and Times. The West Tennessee Whig thus drives one of its nails into the wall, so that its head alone is visible:

The Nashville Press and Times says that a company of militia was raised in this place. This is not the first falsehood that the editor of that paper has fabricated on Jackson and Madison county. No company of "loyal" militia was raised here, and we have no idea that a single recruit could be obtained in the whole county.

A train of seceding Mormons from Utah, arrived at Julesburg, Colorado, on the 18th of July, en route to the States.

The telegraph announces the appointment and confirmation of Hon. John Netherland, of Tennessee, as Minister to Bolivia.

The leading cotton factors in Galveston agree that grass worms, which precede the cotton destroying worm fifteen days, have appeared.

The Knoxville Free Press raises the name of Chas. S. Cameron for Superintendent of Public Instruction.

William Howard Barnum, teller of the Pequonock National Bank at Bridgeport, Connecticut, has decamped with several thousand dollars of the bank's money.

The estimate of the Treasury Department for the support of the United States army in the Southern States during the present year is from $35,000,000 to $40,000,000.

Hon. C. A. Peek, an ex-Judge and former member of Congress from New York, who was arrested sometime ago for alleged complicity in an attempt to swindle an accident insurance company out of $6000, has been discharged.

Mr. Pugh, of Philadelphia, is going to run Mrs. General Lander as the English rival of Ristori, after the latter's return to this country, next winter. Mrs. Lander now lives at Lynn, Massachusetts, and is stated to be the possessor of $100,000.

Wednesday morning the passenger train on the Jackson railroad ran off the bridge near Terre, Mississippi, by parties removing the frog connecting the rails. The locomotive and baggage cars were thrown off, falling thirty feet; the passenger cars remained on the bridge. The fireman was killed, and engineer and brakesman badly injured.

Two young men of the highest respectability fought a duel near Welby, Kentucky, on the 22d instant. Their names were Littleton Wells and Sanford B. Roberts. A fove rivalry was the cause. Wells fell dead at the first fire, and Roberts was shot through the body, and was in a dying condition at last accounts.

A shocking tragedy occurred near Union City, Odion county, on Monday. A negro man broke jail in that town on the preceding Friday, and repairing to the residence of an aged and highly respectable widow lady named Chorum, outraged her person and then fled. Two sons of the injured woman followed the wretch to Hickman, Kentucky, arrested him, and taking him back to near the scene of the outrage, shot him dead and then severed his head from his body.

A shocking tragedy occurred at Chillicothe, Ohio, on the twenty-fourth instant. A young man named Hunter, with three of his friends, were drunk together in a saloon on High street, when they got into a free fight. Hunter's mother came in to take him out, when he ran into the street, got a stone, and throwing it into the crowd, struck his mother on the temple, injuring her so severely that she lived but ten minutes afterward. Hunter is about twenty years old, and his mother forty-five. The whole party were arrested, and are now in jail.

GENERAL BLAIR AT KNOXVILLE.

A Disgraceful Attempt to Disturb the Meeting.

ON the night of the 24th, General FRANK P. BLAIR, addressed one of the largest and most orderly meetings ever held in the city of Knoxville, creating a profound impression. Near the close of his speech a pistol was discharged rapidly four times into the crowd, and for a moment great consternation prevailed, but the speaker maintained his position, unmoved, and order being restored, concluded his remarks. The miscreants who sought to disturb the meeting are said to be known. They certainly deserve severe punishment. It is probable that General BLAIR will speak at Somerville to-day, and at Poplar street market on Monday night. We hope that our inference may be confirmed.

THE ROGERSVILLE RIOT.

Mr. Etheridge Not Shot At.

ON Tuesday last Mr. ETHERIDGE was to address the people at Rogersville, Hawkins county. He had a large concourse of hearers, and discharged his task with his usual ability and effect, notwithstanding MAYNARD attempted to draw off the crowd to be entertained by him, not two hundred yards from where our gallant standard bearer was speaking. Having concluded his speech Mr. ETHERIDGE left for Sneedville. The telegram about his being shot at was a canard. There was a riot, however. MAYNARD and his set of drunken Radicals and negroes paraded up the street, with much boisterous yelling for BROWNLOW. The Conservatives on the sidewalks shouted for ETHERIDGE. As the BROWNLOW column passed the hotel, where a crowd was standing, a mulatto near the rear of the procession turned and fired into the crowd. This was returned by the Conservatives, when the negroes fired a volley, and the firing on both sides became general, the negroes running and firing as they ran. JESSE YORK, formerly a soldier in the United States army, was instantly killed. Lieutenant DAVID RHEA, of the same service, was wounded in the shoulder. One white Radical was severely wounded, and six negroes more or less severely injured—one receiving a broken leg and another a broken arm. The negroes, when they found it was not a one sided affair, precipitately fled.

MEXICO.

Ottero, Castillo and Ten Other Generals Reported Shot.

Canales Assuming the Governorship of Tamaulipas.

NEW YORK, July 25.

The Herald's New Orleans special says the latest dates from the City of Mexico state that Marquez, Oharon, and other prominent chiefs were at large. Generals Andraids, Escunza, Larez and others were found secreted in the English Minister's house, and were arrested on the ground that foreign powers did not recognize the Liberal Government, therefore no consideration was due the Minister.

The northern army left the capital for the interior.

Coronna recently passed through Queretaro west with 700 men, en route for the Sierra de Asca to oppose Linada Diaz, who recently obtained from eight commercial houses $200,000, without interest, to pay his army.

Prominent army officers are offering their resignations every day, but none are accepted. Ottero, Castillo, and ten more Generals, according to private accounts, were recently shot at Queretaro. The publication of the fact was prohibited by the authorities.

Canales has proclaimed himself Governor of Tamaulipas, and has levied contributions on Victori, San Fernando, and other places. The people are much excited and call upon the government for protection. Assistance has been promised, and three thousand troops have left Queretaro to relieve the garrison at Matamoras.

General Thomas has written to Mayor Brown, of Nashville, congratulating him upon the action of the late peace meeting in Nashville. He also forwards a copy of instructions to General Duncan, among which it will be seen that the State militia is to be recognized by the military as among the regularly constituted authorities of the State. These instructions necessarily apply to the whole State:

It is not the duty of officers commanding troops to see to the enforcing of the laws of Tennessee except when called upon by the proper civil authorities. In the matter of inforcing the Franchise law, upon which in a great measure depends the result of the election in Tennessee, the troops should not approach the polls, or in any way interfere with the election, except upon orders from these headquarters, issued upon application of the Governor, Mayor of a city, or other civil officers to General Thomas. The officers in command will, however, at all times, assume the right, and consider it their duty to suppress riot and prevent bloodshed when in their power.

As there will probably be more danger of riots on election day, and at political meetings, than at other times, it would be well that the troops be kept in hand at their quarters on such days, for the two reasons, that there may be no charges against them of interference with the election or political affairs, and that they may be in readiness to suppress riot.

Whenever the troops do move to the assistance of the civil authorities, it should be for the purpose of seeing that no persons interfere with the officers of the law to prevent them from the proper exercise of their offices, and not for the purpose of making arrests; neither will officers in command allow themselves to be made the custodians of prisoners after arrest, except when the civil officers making the arrest declare themselves unable to retain the prisoners in custody; when the officer in command of the troops will take measures to prevent their escape for a short time, while the civil authorities make preparations to secure them.

Should there be reasons why the military should, in the opinion of the commander of the troops, retain custody of prisoners for a longer time than that contemplated in these instructions, the case will be reported through the proper channel to these headquarters and instructions asked.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant.

Brev't Maj. Gen., U. S. A., Ass't Adj. Gen.

HEADQUARTERS DEP'T OF THE CUMBERLAND,
Office of Assistant Adjutant General.
LOUISVILLE, KY., July 19, 1867.

Brevet Brigadier General Thomas, U. S. A., Commanding District of Nashville, Nashville, Tennessee.

GENTLEMEN—In addition to the instructions contained in letter from these Headquarters, of 10th instant, the Major General, commanding the Department, directs me to add that you will consider the Militia of the State of Tennessee, called out under act of the Legislature passed last winter, as among the regular constituted authorities of the State.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,
(Signed.) WM. D. WHIPPLE,
Brevet Maj. Gen. U. S. A., Ass't Adj. Gen.

WASHINGTON, July 26.

Surratt's trial still lingers. It appears that the prosecution, notwithstanding all their efforts, have thus far failed to convict him of either conspiracy or murder. Considerable discussion was had on a motion by the defense to strike out certain testimony which had relation to the case of the prisoner. The prosecution contended that all this evidence was legitimate, except the duel letter, which had not been properly corrected and had no doubt but it should be stricken out.

Napoleon has sent a note to the King of Prussia, urging him to surrender the Danish provinces north of Schleswig to Denmark.

The Emperor of Austria declines to interfere in the matter.

BERLIN, July 26.

Two conscripts belonging to the Imperial army attempted to escape to-day. They succeeded in reaching an American vessel at Bremen. They were on the point of sailing when the Prussian authorities threatened to open their batteries on the ship if the commander refused to give them up. After a sharp parley they were surrendered.

CANADA.

QUEBEC, C. E., July 26.

A heavy thunder storm last evening at this place. A boat is supposed to be lost. Five men were struck by lightning, one badly paralyzed.

TORONTO, C. W., 26.

Drafts for all regiments in Canada expected from England in a few days.

OTTAWA, C. W., July 26.

A surveying party which left this place in March last, under directions of the Government, to ascertain the length of Ottawa river, have returned. They report the length of the river one thousand miles. They found lake Gross to be four hundred miles in circumference. Navigation from lake Temeeamig to lake Gross is impeded by numerous rapids beyond lake Gross. The source of the Ottawa is said to be within five hundred miles of the head waters of the Dognay. The explorers encountered large quantities of ice on lake Gross on the twenty-fourth of May. The natives are Pagans. The men are polygomists.

It is reported that the Home Government is about to establish a permanent garrison in British Columbia.

DIED.

At her late residence at Belmont, in this State, on Monday, 22d of July, 1867, Mrs. N. B. SALE, in the sixty-second year of her age.

This has passed away from scenes which she adorned with every grace and virtue, a most estimable lady, leaving a void in the home circle that naught can fill. The numerous friends and acquaintances she encouraged by her bright example and Christian piety will long have cause to mourn her departure to the spirit land, where rills of happiness are ever flowing, and the voices of seraphim forever sound in one harmonious chord:

"Like other tyrants Death delights to strike
What smitten, most proclaims the pride of power
And arrest'ng god."

Mrs. SALE pass d the allotted three score years, through which she walked in the paths where faith, hope and charity delight to make their abode, and over which soft peace sheds its mellow radiance. In a consoling hope she has met the cessation of souls visitants to Heaven n are more easy the forgiveness of God, without which the future of man would indeed be rayless and hopeless.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

The friends and acquaintances of Mrs. Jane Marshall are respectfully invited to attend the funeral of her youngest son, GEORGE E., from her residence, No. 159 Robeson street, this (Saturday) afternoon, July 27, at three o'clock.

A Card.
TO THOMAS BARRETT.

IN regard to your evasive and mendacious publication in yesterday's AVALANCHE, will you explain whether or not you received my promissory note of ten thousand dollars, and afterwards received my two notes of five thousand dollars each, for the same consideration; if not, what other consideration? and why you did not surrender to me the note of ten thousand dollars. If truth can be subtracted from you, your statement will explain all matters, if creditable.

Since what you deposited as your capital stock in the Citizens' Union Bank, and whether said notes were not deposited as part of your capital stock.
JOHN CANNAVAN.

IMPORTANT NOTICE!
THE GREAT POPULARITY OF THE CHARTER OAK COOKING STOVES

HAS led some unprincipled manufacturers to imitate the name and designs of our stoves. All these imitations are inferior and badly constructed stoves, but so nearly do some of them resemble the original in external appearance as to be easily mistaken for it.

I therefore warn the public that I shall promptly prosecute every person, whether dealer or manufacturer, who shall infringe on my rights by imitating, or using the name or design of the

"CHARTER OAK."

The original Patent Hot Air Flue CHARTER OAK COOKING STOVES are made and sold only by the undersigned.
Salesroom, St. Louis. Each stove has my name and date of patent cast on it. All others are imitations and worthless.

FLORENCE
SYNODICAL FEMALE COLLEGE.

THIS INSTITUTION, which has long enjoyed a very high reputation among the Female Colleges of the South, is situated at Florence, Alabama, which is admitted to be one of the most delightful and salubrious towns in the southwest. It is very easy of access. A branch of the Memphis and Charleston railroad runs to south Florence. Its president, Rev. Dr. Wm. H. Mitchell, is well known as one of the ablest teachers in the country.

The Synod of Memphis, at its last meeting, passed the following resolution:

"We believe that the Florence Synodical Female College, from the eligibility of its location, the ability of its Faculty, the course and system of its instruction, affords equal or superior advantages for the education of females to any institution in the country."

Next session will commence on the 8th day of September next.

For further particulars apply to the President, or to
ROBERT M. PATTON,
Governor of Alabama,
President of the Board of Trustees.

A Card.

JOHN CANNAVAN, with a view to let the public know that he once had credit, having published, in yesterday's AVALANCHE, a false notification in regard to some notes, which I have the misfortune to hold against him, I will say that the said CANNAVAN never executed any notes to me a second time, and that I never asked him to do so; and his statement that I induced him to sign notes a second time, is a malicious falsehood.

I hold his notes for ten thousand dollars, ($10,000), which he gave me for value, a valuable consideration, as can be seen by inspecting the books of the daughter of Shelby county—book 2, page 75, 76 & 77.

Mr. CANNAVAN is too well known in this community to fear that any body would buy his notes as any price.

SECOND DRAWING
OF THE
Buntyn
TO BE HELD
SOUTHERN ASYLUM LAND CO.
AT HERNANDO, MISS, AUGUST, 1867

THE FIRST DRAWING, which took place at Hernando Miss., on the 15th instant, was attended with unusual success, when it is remembered that but a few weeks elapsed from the first publication of the enterprise to that event. Seventeen thousand dollars worth of tickets having been sold, a like amount of property was drawn for, under the supervision of gentlemen selected by the ticket holders present. The utmost harmony and good feeling prevailed, those present, and as will be seen from the subjoined certificate of the managers, the affair was conducted to a close in a most gratifying and satisfactory manner:

HERNANDO, MISS., June 15, 1867.

We hereby certify, that the above report of the first drawing of the Southern Asylum is correct, and that the proceedings were characterized by a spirit of fairness and honor, and passed by any drawing of which we have any knowledge. The managers of the Company placed the tickets and wheels under our sole management and control.

J. M. HALL, Clerk.

The prizes drawn on this occasion numbered forty-seven, and comprised lots in the vicinity of Memphis, Tenn., Corinth, Miss., and Hernando, Miss., deeds to which have been made to the lucky ticket holders. For this, the second Drawing, however, we are able to offer our patrons still more attractive inducements to interest themselves in our scheme. For in a lengthy list of property, much of which has already been advertised to the public, we select the following as our SELECT SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES.—The citizens of Memphis will be gratified to learn of the proposed establishment, on the 2d day of September, in the basement of the Christian church, on the corner of Linden and Mulberry streets, of a select school for young ladies. The Principal, Mrs. Letitia May, is one of the most refined and accomplished daughters of Kentucky, thoroughly educated in all the details of learning, and replete with all the adornments which serve to make up the true woman. Her gallant and chivalric husband, Major Lambert May, Inspector General and General Patton Anderson's staff during the struggles of the Confederacy, whose name is replete with every adornment that education can bestow and high social position illustrate, will, with his accomplished daughter, who has been two years in France, have charge of the French department, in which French will be exclusively spoken. We congratulate the parents of Memphis on this accession to the female institutes of learning in our city.

THE GRAVEST MALADIES OF YOUTH AND EARLY MANHOOD.—Howard Association Essays, on the physiology of the passions, and the errors, abuses and diseases peculiar to the first age of man, with raports on new methods of treatment employed in this Institution. Sent in sealed letter envelops, free of charge. Address Dr. J. Skillin Houghton, Howard Association, Philadelphia, Pa. 3m

Our stock of dress goods is very large, and must be closed out regardless of cost or value. Give us a call and you will satisfy yourself, at Lindauer & Pollock's, 299 Main street. tf

EMMONS & SON, No. 10 Jefferson street, have received the New York Ledger, Chimney Corner, Banner of Light, Boston Pilot, Literary Album, Galaxy, Hall's Journal of Health for August, De Bow's Review for June, Sunday Times, London Art Journal for July.

M. Kraus & Co.'s (No. 213 Main street) damaged stock of dry goods must be sold within the next ten days.

CRIMINAL COURT.—The case of Jacob Burnstein, indictment for larceny, consumed the entire of yesterday. The prisoner stands charged with stealing goods, the property of Sampter & Bros. Burnstein, who is an illiterate foreigner and Jew, was in the employment of M. Sampter & Bros. as a peddler of goods. Owing to some information from the negro porter, he was suspected by Sampter, and in an open box in the cellar were found certain articles supposed to have been stolen. Some contradictory testimony appeared as to the identity of the property, the evidence being rather more circumstantial than direct. Judge Scruggs and Mr. Newton Hart conducted the defense. The case was sent to the jury at a late hour. A verdict was probably rendered late last night. The Rosenbaum corpus case will be taken up this evening, when the protracted investigation will close. The medical witnesses will be examined on the hypothetical cases of insanity and cause, in relation to the murder under investigation. It is probable that the thorough investigation given to this case is not so much caused by a desire on the part of the counsel of the defense to procure leave for bail as to try the strength of the prosecution.

THE FLORENCE (ALABAMA) SYNODICAL FEMALE COLLEGE.—By reference to an advertisement in another column, it will be seen that this institution, under the control of the Synod of Memphis, will resume its sessions on the 9th of September. This grand seat of learning is perfect in all of its details of healthful location, desirable accommodation and religious and moral influence. As for its faculty, it is unnecessary to speak. Presided over by that distinguished, learned and eloquent divine, the Rev. William H. Mitchell, aided by an unexcelled corps of teachers, the parents and guardians who may send their daughters and wards to its fostering care may rely upon receiving the greatest satisfaction.

Fine yard wide bleached domestics at fifteen cents a yard, at Lindauer & Pollock's, 299 Main street. tf

We call attention to a new law firm at No. 245 Second street, whose advertisement makes its appearance this morning. It is composed of the well known Colonel Ketchum, General Morgan and Captain Hinsfield. They are reliable gentlemen, and will strictly attend to all business intrusted to them, giving especial attention to bankruptcy cases.

A NEW OFFICIAL SPECULATING.

How the County Commissioners Fixed It.

The new director of burials is determined to make hay while the sun shines. Before the resolution appointing him was signed by the President of the Board, he had his shingle out. Shortly afterward he had a chance to make money, and this chance leaked out since in a curious manner. It might never have been known had not a colored man wanted to borrow a small sum of money of a Main street merchant, and, to excuse his doing so, stated that he had paid his last money to the County Commissioners for a coffin. "Did you pay it to Mr. Merriman?" "Don't know Mr. Merriman." "Well, was it a fat, pussy man, or a tall, quiet man that you paid it to?" "Neither of them; it was a German man I paid it to," said the black. "Well, tell us all about it," said his interlocutor. "Well, you see, I had to get a coffin to bury him, and I went to Madison street, and they sent me to second street, and from there they sent me to opposite the post-office, and there I found a big, rough looking German, and he made me get him all the money that I had, and he put it in his pocket, and then he gave me an order for a coffin, and I got it. I gave the German man four dollars."

This looked so much like the recent case of the Beaumont Police robbing a dying man of his chest of tools, that the person he spoke with made inquiries and found that it was the fact. Somehow the matter came to the ears of County Commissioner Merriman, and he expressed indignant astonishment. It came to the ears of County Commissioner Barbour Lewis, and he condemned it. It came to the ears of County Commissioner F. W. Louis, and he expressed disapprobation. In fact, every member of the Board who heard the matter condemned it. They all said they didn't want Noll to get the last cent of money, the last trinkets of poor people whose dead he had buried at the county expense. They didn't want police practice under their direction. They didn't like to raise a talk by turning Noll out so soon after his appointment, and after giving him a horse, saddle and bridle, and they didn't think it was much use telling him not to do so any more; so, instead of censuring him for that he had done, they by resolution authorized Noll to skin every case all he could, but to report how much he gets. If the Commissioners had supposed the matter could get out they would probably have settled the matter differently. As it is, their fear of having talk has placed them in a position of covering up the indiscretions of an officer who signalized his induction by skinning a poor black man out of four dollars.

CONSERVATIVE BARBECUE.

A Grand Rally to Bury Brownlowism.

Special Cars to Brownsville.

A free barbecue will be given in Brownsville, Haywood county, on Wednesday, July 31st, at which time the following speakers will address the people: General Wallace, of Memphis; Hon. Charles G. Smith, of Clarksville; Elias Polk (colored), of Nashville; Colonel C. S. Cameron, of Memphis; Colonel Bullock, of Memphis; James Ivey (colored), Henry Guise (colored), and Mat. Dyer, of Jackson (colored). Everybody, white and black, is invited, and a large assemblage is expected to enjoy the hospitalities of old Haywood. We had the pleasure of meeting Hon. J. W. Leftwich, yesterday, who gave us an animated account of the growing prospects of Conservatism in the District, and especially in Haywood county. There should be an extra train run from the city to Brownsville, as there are a number of Conservatives, who wish to attend the barbecue, and hear the speeches on the occasion. What say you, Colonel Jones? We know you are always ready to accommodate.

THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

Their Pleasant Personal Relations with Each Other.

We have, on different occasions, denounced the law forcing a Board of partizan Commissioners on Shelby county; we have condemned the unfitness of some of the appointments, and have exposed their illegal doings; their partizan measures, their squandering public money, their sacrificing public interests for personal objects; but we have, on several occasions, commended what we regarded as public spirited and just and judicious in what they have done. It would be strange, indeed, if even five Radical politicians could pass on public measures for months, and yet do nothing worthy of commendation.

The Commissioners have certainly effected some reforms. They have shown a desire to give the county good public buildings, and they have thrown no obstacles in the way of compelling the new jail, a greatly needed public improvement that was begun by their predecessors. For this co-operation to push on the work on the new jail they deserve more credit than for anything else that they have done.

In contrast with this has been their paying out money illegally, for which, by the by, we doubt not they will be indicted yet; and also the bickerings among themselves that have grown out of political factions or the efforts to expose each others errors. Thus on numerous occasions Dr. White has demanded explicit statements of the financial condition of the county and exposures of leaks. His propositions were tabled, lest something might come out that would hurt Radicalism, but public opinion necessitated action, and the statements were ordered. Similar efforts have been again and again made by Dr. White, and as the papers noticed the fact, it seems the other Commissioners suspected that Dr. White inspired editorials in relation thereto, and gave facts of which the editors were not otherwise informed.

Yesterday Mr. Merriman introduced resolutions strongly censuring Dr. White for his alledged connection with the Lime ring council. It was White and Hack against Merriman, Barbour Lewis and F. W. Louis. Hack on one side was a little mild, and F. W. Louis remembering that an election would come off in March, was also mild. A great deal of bad language was used, and finally the majority censured White. In the meeting and on the street they are very abusive. Dr. White denounced Merriman as a d—d rascal! The old squabbles of the Magistrates in the County Court was disgraceful, but certainly not more so than this bandying epithets and challenges to fight and resolutions of censure.

ITEMITAS.

Mrs. Fillrick, of this city, is said to be one of the heirs of the celebrated Gove, or Grove, estate in England.

John Price, the fellow who was caught at the old folks' picnic picking pockets, has been fully committed for trial.

The recent death of E. Hahn, who was formerly a merchant in this city, and was widely known as an honest, upright man, will be generally regretted.

The County Commissioners have given the Director of Burials a horse, saddle and bridle. An allowance for toothpicks, white kid gloves and hair oil will be next in order.

The duel that was recently on the tapis between two physicians has been settled satisfactorily by the intervention of friends and mutual explanations.

The leading Radical in Haywood county had once an eye put out chasing a runaway negro. He is now awfully down on all other men who have been slaveholders.

Several heirs of Annett Jants, whose property was unlawfully taken a hundred and sixty years ago by Trinity Church, New York, and is now worth twenty millions of dollars, are residents of Memphis.

Cora Rice, the handsome yellow girl, who killed herself by taking laudanum on last Wednesday, has twice before required medical aid to save her life from poison. On one occasion she took it with intent to commit suicide. On the other she was drugged with tincture of cantharides, in spirits.

We thank our friends at Iuka for an invitation to attend the grand complimentary masquerade and dress ball, on Tuesday evening, July 30th. It will doubtless be a very pleasant affair.

It is reported that B. F. C. Brooks, independent candidate for the Legislature, is to distribute widely to-day a circular defining his position, and telling what he knows of the other candidates.

The Board of Health will meet at eleven o'clock, to-day, to hear the reports of committees relative to co-operation with the police and on the establishment of dispensaries.

A gentleman who came recently from Jackson, Tenn., says that the conduct of Brownlow's "medicine" has completely disgusted even the Radicals there. Against the remonstrances of the sheriff, who is a loyal man, they took possession of the county court house, and have made it a filthy barroom. When the blacks have their meetings at their churches the "metlish" go there, and at the close select colored dulcinas, and ramble round the country with them. Our informant states that he has officers of the melish, privates and negroes, sitting down together on the public green to play cards. Such is military discipline.

A dirty attempt to make political capital for Radicalism was a recent allegation that some clerk in the Agent had got from Government the claim of some negro for $50, and offered to pay it out if the negro would vote for Etheridge. All claims coming to freedmen have to come through the Freedmen's Bureau, and no other clerk or agent could have the money, and the story that any one had a negro's money and offered to give it to him if he voted for Etheridge, is not simply erroneous, it is a stupid invention.

When little General Smith was with his soldiers up near Jackson, they quartered on and literally harrowed Mr. McNeely, who had been a loyal man. He protested, and asked Smith why he was so outrageously plundered and robbed. Smith's response was that he himself had been broken up by the war and had lost forty negroes, and that the only way he had to make himself even again was to make it out of others. This was Smith's idea of war. Old Moses, whom Smith owned and turned out to starve when he got too old to work, says that he and a colored woman and her two children, were all the negroes Smith had, and he "don't see how dat made forty."

High rents and dullness of trade induce our merchants to double up to save expenses. Erich & Lloyd dissolve partnership, and Mr. Erich will, with Eastlind and Stanley, have, in the store recently occupied by Shepherd, Watkins & Co., one of the finest china ware and crockery stores in the Southwest. Shepherd, Watkins & Co. will occupy the upper part of the building of which Terry & Mitchell have the first floor. Horace Stone, who has been in the upper part of the building occupied by Shepherd, Watkins & Co., will hereafter occupy the upper part of the building in which Joyner, Lemmon & Co. have the first floor. Would it not be well for persons who wish to economize the rent of private dwellings to double up a little?

ATTENTION!

Two Grand Conservative Rallies.

Hon. John W. Leftwich will address the people of Memphis at the following times and places:

Poplar street Market House, Monday, July 29.
Beale street Market House, Tuesday, July 30.

Speaking to begin at eight o'clock each night. David A. Nunn is offered a division of time. Henry R. Folk will address the meeting of Tuesday.

SUGGESTED PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS.

The City Buildings Under Consideration.

EDITORS AVALANCHE: Formerly there was a public square where the Exchange city buildings now stand. Mr. Bickford was allowed to put up a row of buildings on that square which extended from Poplar to Exchange street, in consideration that the upper stories of a number of them and the lower part of one should be used for municipal offices. This furnished the hall for the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor's office, City Controller's office, City Engineer's office, Register's office, and various other offices, as well as accommodation for the hospital, while Mr. Bickford leased out the stores on the first floor. I am pleased to hear that it is now proposed to dispose of the city's interests in the Exchange building, to place the hospital in a more fitting place, and to locate all the municipal offices in a city hall, formed by the extension or rebuilding the house on that big lot owned by the city, on the north west corner of Adams and Second streets.

Yours,
PRO BONO PUBLICO.

RIVER NEWS.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
FRIDAY, July 27, 1867.

BUSINESS—WEATHER—RIVERS.

Weather sultry and cloudy. The river here is declining steadily. At St. Louis the river is falling, with thirteen feet to Cairo. The Ohio is falling, with three feet nine inches in the canal, and scant four feet on the bars in the Lower Ohio. The Darling reports three feet six inches water on Portland bar, and scant four feet on Walker bar at the head of Hurricane Island. White river is receding steadily, with eight feet six inches to Augusta. The Arkansas is falling slowly, with five feet scant on the bars to Little Rock.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The weather was close and sultry yesterday, but the heavens were propitious and provided a grateful shower, both in the forenoon and afternoon. In some sections rain was much needed, just at this time, especially in this neighborhood. The corn and cotton will both feel the benefit. The afternoon shower was quite heavy, attended with very sharp lightning and heavy thunder—one of the bolts striking very near, or in some part of the city, to judge from the battery like report. After several furious discharges, the rains gently subsided, and a fresh and invigorating breeze very decidedly improved the atmosphere. Business remains at the lowest stand, there being but two boats receiving—the Dan. Able for Vicksburg and the Gleaner for Arkansas river.

The St. Patrick has been painted and fixed up in style. We were over there yesterday, and found her ready to go out, which she will do shortly, under the auspices of experienced and popular officers. Captain John Edson will have command of the St. Patrick, which will come out "armed cap-a-pie," in a couple of weeks. Captain Wash. Wyatt will command the office, efficiently aided by Clay Rice, one of the most popular clerks on the river, assisted by Mr. James Thompson, one of the cleverest boys in the trade. This arrangement will be most advantageous to all around, for every man is just exactly suited to his place—the high standing and experience, as well as popularity, of Captain Edson insure the "Saint" a proper appreciation by the public; while Captain Wyatt, with his able assistants, in the office, insure a regularity in all business transactions, as well as the most genial courtesy to all who avail themselves of the splendid accommodations provided.

We availed ourself of the courtesy of Captain John Ford, of the fine tug Nettie Jones, to visit the St. Patrick, and found that her owners, Captains Wash Wyatt and Mike Fyne had left nothing to be desired in her adornment. They are gentlemen of wealth and liberality; nor have they spared expense in giving a new and elegant appearance to their staunch and graceful boat. She will resume her trips on Tuesday next.

Mr. Henry Nathan, No. 23 Jefferson street, keeps on hand the finest assortment of steamboat bar stores in the city. His stock is complete, and his prices are in keeping with the times. Mr. Nathan is a thorough business man, and will give prompt attention to all orders for goods in his line. His stock will vie with any in the West.

The Dan. Able, Captain Lee, will leave the wharf to-day at five p.m. for Vicksburg and the bends. Billy Fields, a gentleman noted for courtesy, presides in the office.

The John S. McComas, Captain Duffer, is announced for White river to-day at five p.m.

The City of Cairo, in command of Bob Ridley, arrived from St. Louis last evening with a good trip. She is the regular Cairo and St. Louis packet, and leaves to-day at 5 p.m. Her passenger accommodations are complete, and Bob Reilly, better known as Bob Ridley, is one of the bo-hoys to travel with. Captain Bob takes pleasure in making all comfortable and at home who chance to travel with him.

The Victor No. 2, Captain House, leaves to-day at 5 p.m. for Hale's Point and way points.

The Gleaner, Captain King, is fast filling up and will leave for the Arkansas river and all way points to-day, at 5 p.m. She has superior passenger accommodations, and Mr. John Fenwick, a clever gentleman, is her purser.

The Darling, Captain Lee Kates, will leave this evening at 5 p.m., for Cincinnati and way points on the Ohio. Mr. Powers, a genial and clever gentleman, officiates in the office.

The caulkers at Evansville are on a strike.

The Henry Adkins, from New Orleans for St. Louis, passed up yesterday.

The Waunita, from New Orleans for Cincinnati, passed up yesterday.

The Sam Gaty, from St. Louis for Vicksburg, passed down last night.

The John Kilgour, from New Orleans for St. Louis, passed up last night.

General Weitzel, of the United States Corps Topographical Engineers, commenced the surveys for a canal around the falls of the Ohio on Wednesday last.

The following letter from the Secretary of the Treasury on Wednesday addressed to the Supervising Inspector of Steamboats at Pittsburg:

SIR:—The department having been credibly informed that the dangerous practice of steamboat racing is still indulged in on the Hudson river, you are hereby instructed to use the utmost vigilance, and to cause the same to be arrested, by those acting under your supervision, to the end that the laws prohibiting an over pressure of steam may not be violated by such practices."

An improvement has been made at Troy, New York, in screw propelling. It consists in quadrupling the number of screws, that is, instead of working a boat with a single screw at the stern, two screws are applied at either end of extra keels, which are set on both sides of the bottom, and directly under the craft. It is claimed that a very great increase of speed is gained by this new arrangement, and, in the trial trip at Troy, the propellor moved through the water with great celerity. The inventor, a Mr. Arnold, has been eleven years, it is said, perfecting this improvement, and, should it succeed, the present speed of steam navigation may be considerably augmented, while its safety will be increased. The St. Louis Republican, in a long commendatory editorial relative to Captain Haven's boats, says: His plans are indorsed by scientific and practical men, to whom they have been submitted, among them Professor Fontaine, of European celebrity; Professor John A. West, a well known mathematician; John Litherberry, Morton & Starteman, C. W. Smith, of the Niles Iron Works; Moore & Sons, of the Cincinnati Locomotive Works; B. B. Magrath, of the United States Navy; J. L. Vigners, of the New Orleans and New York Steamship Line; W. Nack, of the New Orleans and Matamoras Line; J. C. D. Brennod, Robert S. Kirkte, engineer, and others.

A contemporary says: "Captain H. W. Symms sold yesterday to Captain Kennedy Lodwick the side wheel steamer Dora for $12,000. Captain Lodwick intends running her in some of the Southern waters, and has certainly got a bargain."

Until day of sale the property can be seen to private bids.

WE will at once rebuild our warehouse, and will have it completed by the 15th of September, but by the first of that month we will be ready to receive goods on store.

The sheds will be divided into five fire proof compartments by brick walls, and covered with tin. Those who have patronized us for the last two seasons, and those who may have proposed to do so the approaching one, may rest assured we will be ready for them.

We design establishing a Cotton Compress in connection with our warehouses, upon an adjacent lot, which will be ready by the 1st of October, or sooner. The proximity of our establishment to the river renders the handling of cotton so convenient that we can transfer cotton for shipment by river free of drayage. The advantage of the position is equal to one drayage on all cotton sent for compression from other warehouses, while on all cotton in our warehouse for compressment there can be no drayage charged, hence it would be as easy for us to transfer it from our shed to the Compress as to turn it out in the ordinary way for transfer by drays.

...signed to it at the Penitentiary trial, I considered it my duty to assume all responsibility in the matter by explaining the whole affair to the proprietors of said paper. Accordingly I did so. I did call at the office of the paper, and stated all the facts to them, as stated above.

To-day, in court, after answering a few direct questions, I endeavored to make an explanation of the matter, which was objected to by the prosecution, and refused by Judge Pitchor.

The New York Herald, who first procured the news from the Judiciary committee of my having been before them, and what testimony I had given, has spoken of a secrecy of manner, and an observation, "If something should occur during the night," etc., on the part of Wilkes Booth. I desire to state all that did occur at that interview, and do say, also, that the letter was given with no secrecy of manner, nor was there any remark made about anything that might occur during the night.

Now for the contents of the letter. It was written on a sheet of commercial note paper, covering three pages. The first two pages were written in the spirit and style of the Philadelphia letter, and it was only at the concluding paragraph that anything was said bearing upon what had transpired, which was to this effect and in these words:

For a long time I have devoted my energies, my time and money to the accomplishment of a certain end. I have been disappointed. The moment has now arrived when I must change my plans. Many will blame me for what I am about to do; but posterity I am sure, will justify me.

Southern Commanders Not Invited to Conference.

NEW YORK, July 26.—An Omaha dispatch says that on the twenty-second seventy-five Indians attacked a party of surveyors on the Union Pacific railroad, on Bitter creek, mortally wounding P. T. Brown, the engineer in charge of the party. He died on the twenty-third. The Indians are virtually in possession of the road between forts Saunders and Bridger.

A Washington telegram says that the President has not invited the Southern district commanders to a conference, as reported, though he contemplates doing so.

The President sees no necessity for the present issue of a proclamation against filibustering. Should the necessity arise he will take steps to enforce the neutrality law.

NEW YORK, July 26.—British Honduras correspondents say that another steamer has arrived from the United States, with a large number of emigrants. As an inducement to settle, the Legislature has exempted all emigrants from duties and taxes for three years after their arrival, admits their stock, implements, furniture and provisions free, and gives land and money to each able bodied settler.

LONDON, July 25.—Omar Pasha reports that the military forces under his command have suppressed the insurrection in Candia and ended the war in that island.

By order of the British War office the trial of a fifteen inch Rodman gun was held in the presence of a large number of naval and military officers and experts. It was proven, by tests to which the gun was submitted, that no iron or steel armor yet invented is capable of resisting its projectiles.

The Tennessee Registration.

OFFICE SECRETARY OF STATE,
NASHVILLE, July 24, 1867.

S. C. Mercer, Esq:

SIR: In answer to your inquiry as to the state of the registration in the State, I send you a table of all the counties whose registers have reported up to this date, the report for Davidson county being unofficial but correct.

You will see from this table that sixty-nine counties report 85,494 registered voters. It is proper to observe that the registers in most of the counties did not cease to issue certificates with the sending up of their reports, but are still at work. From the information in my possession I have no doubt the registered voters in these sixty-eight counties will reach 1,00,000.

The counties of Benton, Dyer, Greene, Hickman, Hardeman, Henderson, Johnson, Montgomery, Obion, Stewart, Sullivan, Tipton, Warren, Fentress and Perry, will average about 7,000 each. The grand result will certainly reach 115,000 voters, and amount to 130,000 which is a little more than the state ever voted. It is a curious fact that the number of newly made citizens in the States are about equal to the number disfranchised.

Respectfully,
A. J. FLETCHER,
Secretary of State.

Booth's Letter to the National Intelligencer.

From the National Intelligencer, July 25.

The following communication has been sent to us by Mr. John Matthews, the only person who is able to give information in regard to the letter written by J. Wilkes Booth, and addressed to the editor of the National Intelligencer. Mr. Matthews was a witness in the Surratt trial, but was not permitted by the court to testify in regard to the letter alluded to. As statements have been publicly made in reference to Mr. Matthews' connection with this letter, he asks the publication of this communication in justification of himself and truth:

WASHINGTON, July 17, 1867.

Editors Intelligencer:

GENTLEMEN: Much has been said in the public prints in regard to the missing letter of John Wilkes Booth. As I am the person to whom this letter was entrusted, I know its contents and the circumstances attending its delivery into my hands better than any person now living.

It was on the afternoon of Good Friday, April 14, 1865, at about four o'clock that I met John Wilkes Booth (on horseback) on Pennsylvania avenue, at the triangular enclosure between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets. We met, shook hands, and passed the compliments of the day. It so happened that the officers of General Lee's army had just passed up in a body. I asked Booth: "Johnny, have you seen Lee's officers, just brought in?" He replied, "Yes, Johnny, I have;" then placing his hand upon his forehead, exclaimed, "Great God, I have no longer a country." Observing his paleness, nervousness, and agitation, I remarked, "John, how nervous you are; what is the matter?" to which he replied, "Oh, no, it's nothing," and continued with, "Johnny, I have a little favor to ask of you; will you grant it?" "Why certainly, Johnny," I replied; what is it?" He then stated, "Perhaps I may leave town to-night, and I have a letter here which I desire to be published in the National Intelligencer; please attend to it for me, unless I see you before ten o'clock to-morrow; in that case I will see to it myself."

At that moment I observed General Grant riding by in an open carriage, carrying also his baggage. Seeing this I called Mr. Booth's attention to him, and said, "Why Johnny, there goes Grant. I thought he was coming to the theater this evening with the President." "Where?" he exclaimed. I pointed to the carriage; he looked towards it, grasped my hand tightly, and galloped down the avenue after the carriage. That was the last time I met him until I saw him on the stage of Ford's Theater on the memorable night of the 14th of April.

Time passed on. Many persons who knew Booth or had ever seen him were arrested and sent to prison. The secret of the letter was confided to a few confidential friends only; and when I saw the editors of the National Intelligencer were suspected of having suppressed the document, and were interrogated

MONETARY.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
SATURDAY, July 27, 1867.

Local finances continue quiet and steady, with no change worthy of notice. Business for the day was confined to the local checking and depositing. Money continues to rule close, with the rates of interest firm. First class approved paper rules at 10@12 per cent; commercial at 15@18 per cent. Street rates range from two to three per cent. a month.

GOLD—In New York was steady at 139¾. The market here was quiet, with few transactions. The premium rates ruled from 138 to 138½ for round lots.

SILVER—Continues firm and steady, buying at 129@131.

The financial market continues to rule close and stringent, with no change worthy of report. The discount market rules close, with the rates of interest firm. First class approved paper rules at 10@12 per cent; commercial at 15@18 per cent.

GOLD—In New York gold was quiet at 139½@139¾. In the market here there was little doing, with the rates ruling from 138@138½. Silver continues firm, buying at 129@131.

EXCHANGE—Is quiet but in light supply. Bankers check at sight on the East at ¾@¼c premium, St. Louis and Cincinnati at ½@¾c; on New Orleans at par.

CITY SCRIP—Quiet and dull, with little demand and light transactions. Brokers are offering 67@68c and selling at 69@61c.

POLICE SCRIP—Continues dull with a large supply on the market and a small demand. Brokers are offering 60@61c and selling at 63@65c.

COUNTY SCRIP—Is dull at 78@80c buying, and selling at 80@82c.

TENNESSEE MONEY—Remains quiet and unchanged, with few transactions. COMMERCIAL.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
SATUI DAY, July 27, 1867.

Business in commercial circles continues to move along sluggishly, with only a small trade doing in plantation supplies.

From Savannah we learn that the late heavy rains had considerably damaged the cotton, causing the shedding of bolls, to which might be added a disastrous attack by the worms. A two-thirds crop, however, was expected. The rice crop is reported badly damaged.

From New Orleans the crop reports are unfavorable, especially those of grain and sugar cane. The worm has appeared in the Red river country. There had been too much rain. At New Orleans, on the 22d, for the first time in six weeks, they had been forty-eight hours without rain. That day the thermometer stood at 96.

The State of Mississippi will raise enough corn to supply its population, who will no longer depend upon importations from the North. We hear of engagements made at from twenty-five cents to fifty cents per bushel in that State. Corn continues high here, although it has materially declined in the North. It is still held here at $1 35. A few days, with a timely arrival, must materially affect the market. The wheat crop is also favorably reported in Mississippi. Along the valley of the Great River the cotton is in bad condition, owing to the ravages of the worms. Not over one bale to five acres will be made, when a bale to the acre is the usual crop.

GENERAL MARKET.
